

1160089. Charles & Ray Eames

"Segmented Table", Vitra.

The timeless table Segmented Table is designed by Charles & Ray Eames as early as in 1964. The table is included in a collection that are available in several different sizes and shapes – and the collection has during the years become a classic design item from the iconic duo. The table has the characteristic legs in steel that are also seen in the popular EA-series with office chairs.

The dining table comes in a circular shape with a table top in oak.
