

1215854. A "Taburett Anna" stool by Bruno Mathsson/Folkform designed 1945/2020

Bukowskis has been honored to sell the stool Anna, in a new interpretation, performed by the art and design duo Folkform, for Bruno Mathsson International. An external collaboration that is the furniture manufacturer's first in many years. The classic stool Anna was initially designed in 1945 by Bruno Mathsson, one of Sweden's most internationally known designers.

Folkform wanted to challenge the classic form by using combinations of materials and sewing techniques in new ways. The upholstery is made with vegetable tanned leather from the old Tärnsjö Tannery. The legs of the stool are lacquered beech and are marked with a unique sign with Folkform's stamp. The upholstery is available in five different designs and can be recognized from the pattern in the benches "Patchwork" for National Museum, which Folkform designed for the National Museum 2018.
